Learning Objective : This course equips principals, school leaders, and academic coordinators to design, implement, and sustain effective teacher professional development systems within their institutions. Participants learn how to move beyond one-time trainings toward continuous capacity building that improves teaching quality, motivation, accountability, and long-term academic outcomes.

Course Modules	Brief Course Module Descriptions
SP5801 – Rethinking Teacher Professional Development in Schools	This module explores why traditional workshop-based training often fails to create lasting change. Leaders examine professional development as a continuous, school-embedded process. The link between teacher growth and student learning is emphasised.
SP5802 – Identifying Teacher Needs Through Observation and Data	Focuses on diagnosing professional development needs using classroom observations, student outcomes, and feedback. Leaders learn how to move from assumptions to evidence-based planning. Trust and confidentiality are prioritised.
SP5803 – Designing Meaningful and Practical PD Programs	Explores how to design development programs that are relevant, practical, and aligned with school goals. Leaders learn how to balance theory, practice, and reflection. Adult learning principles are emphasised.
SP5804 – Coaching, Mentoring, and Instructional Support Systems	Examines coaching and mentoring as powerful tools for teacher growth. Leaders learn how to support peer mentoring, instructional coaching, and reflective dialogue. Support replaces inspection.
SP5805 – Monitoring Impact and Accountability in PD	Focuses on evaluating the effectiveness of professional development initiatives. Leaders learn how to track changes in practice and outcomes. Accountability is framed as growth-oriented rather than punitive.
SP5806 – Sustaining a Culture of Professional Learning	Explores how leaders create environments where learning is valued and ongoing. Participants learn how to model learning, encourage collaboration, and prevent PD fatigue. Sustainability is prioritised.
