Learning Objective : This course equips principals, school leaders, and academic coordinators with the skills to handle conflict and difficult conversations involving teachers, parents, students, and staff with clarity, fairness, and emotional intelligence. Participants learn structured approaches to resolve disputes, protect relationships, and maintain institutional credibility while upholding school values and policies.

Course Modules	Brief Course Module Descriptions
SP5901 – Understanding Conflict in School Settings	This module explores why conflict is common in schools due to high emotional stakes, multiple stakeholders, and pressure-filled environments. Leaders learn to distinguish task conflict from relationship conflict. Conflict is reframed as a leadership responsibility rather than a failure.
SP5902 – Leader Mindset and Emotional Regulation During Conflict	Focuses on the leader’s emotional state during difficult conversations. Participants learn how fear, anger, or defensiveness escalate conflict. Practical strategies for staying calm, neutral, and grounded are introduced.
SP5903 – Preparing for Difficult Conversations	Explores how preparation determines the outcome of challenging discussions. Leaders learn how to clarify purpose, gather facts, anticipate reactions, and choose appropriate language. Structure replaces impulsive reactions.
SP5904 – Conducting Difficult Conversations with Teachers and Staff	Focuses on performance issues, resistance, complaints, and accountability conversations with staff. Leaders learn how to balance firmness with respect. Protecting dignity while maintaining standards is emphasised.
SP5905 – Managing High-Stakes Conversations with Parents and Students	Examines emotionally charged conversations involving complaints, discipline, or dissatisfaction. Leaders learn de-escalation strategies, boundary setting, and solution-focused dialogue. Documentation and follow-up are prioritised.
SP5906 – Resolving Conflict and Restoring Trust	Explores steps to close conflicts constructively and rebuild working relationships. Leaders learn how to ensure clarity, agreement, and closure. Long-term trust and institutional stability are emphasised.
