Learning Objective : This course equips school counsellors and well-being professionals with the skills to design, implement, and evaluate Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) programs within school settings. Participants learn how to move beyond isolated activities to structured, developmentally appropriate SEL initiatives that support emotional regulation, relationships, resilience, and learning across the school community.

Course Modules	Brief Course Module Descriptions
SP6201 – Foundations of Social-Emotional Learning in Schools	This module introduces the core concepts, competencies, and goals of SEL in educational contexts. Participants learn how SEL supports behaviour, mental health, and academic outcomes. The difference between SEL instruction and therapy is clearly defined.
SP6202 – Developmentally Appropriate SEL Across Age Groups	Focuses on how SEL needs differ across early childhood, middle years, and adolescence. Participants learn how to tailor SEL goals and activities to developmental readiness. Avoiding age-inappropriate or superficial SEL practices is emphasised.
SP6203 – Designing Structured SEL Programs and Frameworks	Explores how to plan coherent SEL programs with clear objectives, progression, and outcomes. Participants learn to align SEL initiatives with school values and policies. Structure and consistency are prioritised over one-off sessions.
SP6204 – Implementing SEL Through Classrooms and Groups	Focuses on delivery methods such as classroom sessions, group work, and workshops. Participants learn how to collaborate with teachers while maintaining counselling boundaries. Practical implementation challenges are addressed.
SP6205 – Monitoring and Evaluating SEL Impact	Examines ways to assess SEL effectiveness using observation, feedback, and simple indicators. Participants learn to track progress without over-testing or labelling students. Continuous improvement is emphasised.
SP6206 – Sustaining SEL Initiatives and Staff Engagement	Explores strategies to embed SEL into school culture over time. Participants learn how to prevent initiative fatigue and build staff ownership. Sustainability and leadership support are highlighted.
